About Richmond Vanadium Technology

Richmond Vanadium Technology Limited (RVT) is an Australian minerals exploration company currently advancing its Richmond Vanadium Project in north Queensland.

The company is progressing its Initial Public Offering, with listing on the Australian Securities Exchange anticipated in early December 2022. Following its listing, RVT will commence a Bankable Feasibility Study.

RVT is the 100% owner of the Richmond Vanadium Project, following Horizon Minerals Ltd (ASX: HRZ) completing a restructure of its 25% interest in the North Queensland project resulting in HRZ now being the major shareholder in RVT, holding 25% and existing shareholders of RVT 75%, and Horizon intending to distribute half of its holding to its shareholders, subject to shareholder approval. The 1.8Bt Richmond Vanadium Project has a completed Pre-Feasibility Study which demonstrated a technically viable and financially attractive development project. The Project has a completed process flowsheet using conventional techniques with a provisional patent application lodged with IP Australia covering the method for the concentration of vanadium.

Situated between the towns of Julia Creek and Richmond in Queensland, the project is around 500km west of Townsville and 400km east of Mt Isa along the Flinders Highway and Great Northern railway linked to Townsville Port and close to existing infrastructure including gas pipeline and HV network line.

The Queensland Government declared the Richmond Vanadium Project to be a Coordinated Project in May 2022, making it the first critical minerals project to be awarded this status in the state.
